Carmel Valley Outlook

Vol. VII, No. 28 | 10 Cents | July 17, 1968

Sprinklers in Carmel Valley are working overtime in these days of hot, dry weather. Photographer Eilleen Dufur captured the sprays of water from the sprinkling system at River Ranch on the Carmel Valley Road.

Carmel Valley Road plan lines are approved to Dorris Drive by PlanCom

Plan lines for the Carmel Valley Road up to Dorris Drive were approved by the County Planning Commission last Wednesday and passed on to the Board of Supervisors with recommendation for approval.

A committee consisting of Valley residents and plancom members had worked out the few snags which were still present in the four-lane lines. Recommedation of the committee included consideration of pedestrian and cycle crossings as well as pedestrian, horse and cycle paths. They also suggested design attention to an aesthetic separation and grading of the road, landscaping and the preservation of the natural features.

Plancom chairman Leon Stutzman congratulated the committee on their work and praised the Planning Commission for their patience and continued work with the Road Department and harmonious relationship with Valley committees.

The motion made by Dr. Ed Marcucci was passed unanimously. After this approval, it was moved that the Valley Road committee, made up of Carmel Martin Jr., George Brown, Louis Gardner, Nancy Strathmeyer, St. E. P. Tyner, Bay Butler, Dick Wenzlik, Sebastian Bordonaro, Ed Lee and Doyt Early, be continued to work with Road Commissioner Bruce McClain and the County Road Department.

The committee includes representatives from the CVPOA, the Monterey County Conservation Association, the Upper Valley Advisory Board, the CV Chamber of Commerce, the Mid-Valley Property Owners Association, the Monterey County Parks Commission, Carmel Board of Realtors, and the Lower Valley Advisory Committee.

Acting in an advisory position to the committee were PlanCom members Keith Evans of Carmel and Dr. Ed Marcucci from Carmel Valley, Bruce McClain, road commissioner, Ed DeMars of the County planning staff and Earl Smith of the Monterey County Parks Dept.

Plancom member Perry Henderson asked McClain if he expected to set plan lines for the more easterly sections of the Valley Road and he stated that no further portions were on the priority list for plan lines. Setting of the plan lines in no way precludes widening in the immediate future, McClain reiterated. Four lanes through Via Petra are in the five year priority plan, he said, but the other section, including that just approved, are not.

McClain referred to the poll taken this year by the CV Property Owners Association reflecting the desire of Valley residents to retain the two lane road from the Los Laureles Grade through the Village. The traffic becomes less and less as we move out the Valley, he added. At Schulte Road McClain also compared the statistics of 4,500 cars per day in 1964 and 6,500 cars per day in 1968.

If you don't think we need a four lane road down there... just check the figures, he said. But further up the Valley, the poll showed a complete reversal to almost 80% against the wider thoroughfare.

Benefit dance for Toddlers House

A benefit dinner dance for Toddler's House, the Seaside inter-racial nursery school, will be held Friday July 26 at the historic House of the Four Winds in Monterey.

Dinner at $2.50 per person will be served from 7 to 9 p.m. and dancing will continue to 2 a.m. with music by The New Miracles and the Torments. Tickets are now on sale.

For tickets phone Mrs. William Norton at 659-4332 or they may be purchased at the Penthouse Beauty Salon in Carmel or the Costume Bazaar, 525 Polk St., in Monterey.

The names of Josh A. Feuerman of Carmel and Greg S. Olsen of Pebble Beach and Wilson J. Dunaway of Monterey were inadvertently omitted from the Monterey Peninsula College spring Dean's List according to Registrar Louise White.

Chamber to help house bagpipers

Any Scotchmen around who might like to host a bagpiper?

If so, call the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce, 659-2283. It won't be until the Scottish Society's Gathering and Games in October, but Pres. Steve Grant of the Scottish Society invited the C V Chamber of Commerce Thursday to assist by housing members of a bagpipe band for the October event.

The Chamber agreed to serve as a clearing house for local Scotch families who would like to provide rooms for bagpipers the night of Oct. 26. Grant said that three bagpipe bands will come for the event, from San Francisco, Los Angeles and Lockheed's at Sunnyvale.

If one of the bands were accomodated here, a bagpipe concert would be given in the Valley on Sunday, Grant said.

VILLAGE PLAN

Pres. Tom Bottaro of the Chamber asked Dr. Ed Marcucci, county planning commissioner who is also a chamber director, to have development of a Village master plan added to the county planning department's schedule. Dr. Marcucci read a list of 30 other projects already on the planning department's agenda, indicating work on a Village master plan would not be imminent.

Bottaro suggested the county help curtail non-conforming signs in the Valley, and Dr. Marcucci indicated a phone call to the county would set enforcement machinery in motion.

The Chamber agreed to supply French bread and manpower for the testimonial barbeque August 4 for Boyd Danielson, charter fireman, who is moving.

President of California-American Water Co. will fly from Los Angeles to talk at the August 8 Chamber meeting on Company plans for the Valley and another possible Valley dam.

CONTRIBUTIONS

The Chamber also voted $50 to match a contribution by the Village Committee to landscape the center--sandbagged area at Pilot Rd. and CV Rd.

Donation of a $25 savings bond to a top life-saving student in the summer swimming program was approved.

The Chamber will pay a third of the $479 expenses of the recent incorporation feasibility study, the rest of the cost being divided between CVPOA and the Commercial Property Owners Association.

The Chamber, at the suggestion of Bob Kvenild, Parks and Beautification chairman, agreed to back up the local Fire Dept. by urging all commercial property be cleaned of weeds or have it done with the property owner billed.

Possible further development of the local airstrip by owner Peter Delfino was reported.

EDITORIAL

And still the fires go on. So far there hasn't been one that seriously endangered life, or destroyed any structures, mainly due to the high efficiency of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department but also attributable to pure luck.

Although a lot of circumstantial evidence has been collected pinpointing a small group of youngsters, so far they have not been caught in the act. So, on they go...continuing to set fires.

The situation has reached such dangerous proportions that the State Division of Forestry has added another $100 reward to the one now being offered by the Carmel Valley Lions Club for information leading to the apprehension of those involved.

Parents have been notified of the firemen's suspicions, but we understand that those involved would not cooperate in pursuing the investigation further. We would think that if there were the slightest possibility that a child were mixed up in such a crime, the parent would want to bend over backwards to try and determine whether this was true or false. No mother or father wants to believe that his or her youngster is guilty of such action... but somebody is doing it and some parent is going to have to face up to it eventually.

Will that time be after his child has set the fire that burns down a house...or the blaze that takes the life of a fireman?

Good work on Valley Road plan lines

The Monterey County Planning Commission unanimously OKed plan lines for four lanes to Dorris Drive on the Carmel Valley Road at their last week's meeting. They passed the decision on to the Board of Supervisors with a recommendation for approval.

A committee, consisting of representatives from Valley advisory boards, property owners associations, Carmel Board of Realtors, parks commission and Chamber of Commerce, has spent considerable time working with the PlanCom, the Road Department and the Planning Staff to iron out objectionable portions of the lines and emphasize aesthetics as well as practicality in the final determination.

In the past we have questioned the advisibility, or need, of the plan lines...or of the four lane road itself. We still feel this way about the Upper Valley with its lower density of traffic. But considering statistics showing that the Schulte Road intersection now sees 6,500 cars passing per day as compared with 4,500, just four years ago, it appears that planning ahead for widening of the Valley Road is not only intelligent but an absolute necessity.

We would hope, however, that the Road Department take seriously the recommendations made for landscaping, and minimizing of cuts, and give the Valley a road which we can live with.

The Planning Commission moved to continue the citizens' committee as a working group to advise the Road Department, in the event the Supervisors approve the revised lines. Considering the degree of cooperation exhibited during the final drafting of these lines, it would seem that the best possible design for the road will emerge when the time eventually arrives for the actual work to be scheduled.

A guest editorial

Editor's Note: The following is an editorial written by Lewis Cranston, fourth grader attending summer school at Carmelo. Lewis will be in fifth grade at Middle School in the fall.

The editorial is the first one published in the first issue of the Carmelo Gazette, a four page newspaper being put out by a class which has been studying news media as part of its summer school course.

Rockets were fired Sunday night, in the Valley Cinema. It's really too bad that people do things like that. When someone does something like that it hurts him more than anyone else.

To shoot a sky rocket in a movie theater is nothing to ignore, but most of the blame should go to the parents. Parents should be responsible for their children's actions.

It is bad for children, too, because when older people hear things like that, they say: "Those teenagers are always causing trouble and are always talking little kids into doing the wrong things." That's not really true, it's only a small percentage that cause trouble.

The Rhyming Philosopher

SATIETY

My neighbor is a gardener
Of avid zeal amazing.
He's also quite a bargainer
With all the stuff he's raising.

Since he supplies our family cook
With scads of vegetation,
His garden care we undertook
While he went on vacation.

He only has an acre tract
To harvest, weed and water;
A job for three, to be exact:
The wife, myself and daughter.

What do you do with tons of beans
We picked besides tomatoes,
With onions, corn and sundry greens
And mountains of potatoes?

All local folks have gardens, too,
Our cans and freezer's packed full.
Next year we'll tell him what to do
And where to go, but tactful!

CV Professional Building has become a bustling arts and crafts center

Carmel Valley Village has a burgeoning Art and Craft center which is growing all by itself in the Professional Building, on the alley behind the Talbott Building. The building, owned by Bernard Jones has been leased to Glen MeWhinney, who is renting the studios to a fascinating variety of artists, jewelry makers, leatherworkers, potters, etc.

In the central courtyard there is The House of Pizza with tables both inside and out. The atmosphere is one of casual friendliness as customers and artists eat and visit.

Opening on the courtyard is a shop specializing in silverwork , called Micha's. Mike Crumpley has just moved into the place, but on display are some fascinating silver earrings and tiny goblets which he makes in his studio-workshop at home.

Mike and his wife Kathi had a shop in Georgetown, Colo. before coming here and their Carmel Valley Shop is named after their four month old son. Mike specializes in custom work in both silver and gold. Kathy is a weaver and soon some of her voluminous capes will be on display.

Displaying in the shop with them, is Tonya Carpenter who is a ceramist and artist; and her husband, Mert, who does metal sculpture.

If you look in the window of the shop on the second floor, at the end of the building towards Carmel Valley Road, you can see some beautiful sheepskin coats made by John McAbery. Also on display in this space is a patchwork quilt, designed and made by Myrna Scales in leather and sheepskin. Just the thing to have in front of the fireplace on a winter Valley evening.

Myrna, who designs and makes clothing in leather has a shop with Karen Emerson at the opposite end of the second floor, overlooking the Robles hills. Myrna specializes in jackets and coats, English riding coats and miniskirts.

Karen does freeform watercasts in silver and rings, earrings, etc. in silver and ivory. Their shop is not open yet, but will be soon.

Right in the middle of the second floor, overlooking the courtyard, where you can catch the whifs of pizza, Pauline Marden has her "Balcony Boutique." Pauline designs and makes interesting and way--out clothing in terrific fabrics.

Beverly Fitzpatrick, who is perhaps better known for her painting, has opened a pottery studio on the ground floor. Interesting shapes and forms are displayed in the window and browsers can watch Beverly hard at work at the wheel.

An art gallery will also be located in the building.

Other artists and craftsmen are expected to take up residence in the near future, according to Mr. MeWhinney.

MIKE CRUMPLEY sets stones in a pair of rings. Working in silver, gold, and with a variety of stones, Mike makes custom made jewelry, goblets and cups.

BEVERLY FITZPATRICK draws up a tall, tall vase in sandstone colored clay in her studio in the Professional Building.

PAULINE MARDEN works at the sewing machine in her Balcony Boutique. Earrings made by Cecilia Valpey are hanging on display boards in the background.

AN EXCITING experience was in store for two young students of Pat Wester's Studio of Ballet Arts when they were chosen to dance with the Bolshoi when it performed in San Francisco. Kathleen Dresser (left) of Monterey, and Patricia Klump (right) of Carmel Valley, rehearsed with Simon Semenoff (center) of the Bolshoi Ballet. (Photo by Edward M. Powell)

Pat Wester's pupils dance with Bolshoi

Two young ballet students from Patricia Wester's Carmel Valley Studio of Dance Arts were selected to perform with Moscow's Bolshoi Ballet Company during its recent San Francisco performances. Six year old Tricia Klump, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Klump of Carmel Valley, and Kathy Dresser, age 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Dresser of Monterey, were selected from 300 children who auditioned. Only 17 were selected to dance with the company.

The girls performed in the ballet, "Ballet School," which was presented on opening night, July 2, and in matinee and evening performances on July 6. They rehearsed intensively for a week before the ballet opened.

FIRST BOLSHOI TRIP

In 1962, when the Bolshoi made its first trip to the United States, three of Patricia (Ramsey) Wester's students performed with the company. One of the three, Wayne Eagling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eagling of Carmel Valley, is now studying at the Royal Ballet School in England.

When the Kirov Ballet Company came to San Francisco from Leningrad in 1963, six more students from Mrs. Wester's classes were chosen to perform with them. When the Kirov returned in 1964, 16 of Pat's students were selected to dance with the company again.

Drug research explained to Valley Kiwanis

The costly research of the pharmaceutical industry was explained to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club Tuesday by J. Walter McDonnell, Jr., local representative of Lederle Laboratories.

Competition in the industry often sees a major new product become obsolete within a very short time, he said, when another company discovers something better.

As an example, he said that some 5,000 antibiotics were isolated during research, but that only 17 proved of sufficient value for human use.

Manager Al Smith of the Carmel Valley branch of the Bank of America was inducted at the previous meeting into the club by Lou Gardner; he was sponsored by President Kevin Walsh.

Next week, the winning team in a recent membership contest will be feted at a club barbeque at Prince's Camp.

CHARLES MULKEY

Carmel's Kiwanis president fights the war on poverty

A Peninsula resident since 1942, Charles Mulkey, president of the Carmel Kiwanis Club, has been involved with radio and electronics throughout that time. Even when he was away during the war, he was maintenance chief of one of the largest Air Force radio stations overseas for two years.

When he returned, he opened a radio repair shop at Fort Ord, but immediately got in contact with the local school districts and in 1946 organized the radio shop at Monterey High School. He taught at the High School until Monterey Peninsula College was opened and then went with them. He is presently Dean of Technical Vocational Education at MPC.

In 1950, Mulkey went to San Jose State, graduating in 1952, and holding down a full time job as coordinator in electronics in the San Jose school systems at the same time.

Since he has been at MPC, Mulkey has worked in community activities in a number of ways. He has been active in instruction in the anti-poverty program, serving two years as president of the Monterey Peninsula Anti-poverty Council. He has just concluded a year as president of the County Coordinating Council on Poverty.

He goes on the radio six times a week on KMBY and K-Wave with reports to the audience on anti-poverty problems and job opportunities.

Charles Mulkey has extended his work with the community through 13 years of service and perfect attendence at Kiwanis Club meetings. He joined the International when he was in San Jose.

The Carmel chapter of Kiwanis was founded about 20 years ago, sponsored by Fong Q. Jing, as was the Valley chapter. Mulkey has served as a director and vice president of the service organization prior to taking over as president this year.

The Carmel club has worked as a service organization through the greater community of the Peninsula as well as Carmel. They have been active in helping Operation Shoestring, assisted students as Carmel High and MPC with scholarships, and assisted in the Neighborhood Youth Corps with money for such down to earth necessities as a hair cut for a kid or a new pair of pants to help make him employable.

Throughout both his personal, business and service club life, Mulkey is an ever active worker for those who are in the minority or poverty-stricken groups.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

Bach Festival organ concert to be held at Community Church

An organ concert, featuring Kenneth Ahrens, organist with the Carmel Bach Festival for the past eight years, will be presented at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula, at the entrance to Carmel Valley, on Tuesday, July 23.

For this program, Mr. Ahrens has chosen the works of Dietrich, Buxtehude, Johann Pachelbel and J. S. Bach.

Buxtehude was an important precursor of Bach and exerted an enormous influence on him. The theme for the Passacaglia in D Minor, which Mr. Ahrens will play, was later borrowed by Bach for his great C Minor Passacaglia.

Pachelbel, another important early model in Bach's compositions, will be represented with the Variations on the chorale "What God Ordains is Always Good" and the Prelude in D Minor.

Mr. Ahrens will also play the Prelude and Fugue in B Minor and Variations on the chorale tune "O God, Thou Faithful God" of J. S. Bach.

The Walcker organ at the Community Church is one of particular excellence and was chosen shortly after its installation last year as the instrument for one of the two organ recitals which Ahrens will present during the Bach festival. The other will be given on Thursday, July 25, at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Monterey.

Ahrens is head of the Music Department at Santa Catalina School, organist and choir master at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, and director of the Chamber Music Singers of MPC.

Work by well-known Peninsula handcrafters will be on display in Room 5 of Sunset Center during the Bach Festival. There is no admission charge to the exhibit which will be in the room to the left of the main entrance. Articles in many media made by members of the Carmel Crafts Guild will be featured in the show.

Some of those exhibiting are sculptor Howell Armor; silversmith Roscoe Russell; weavers Joni Clayton, Mrs. Warren Crabtree, and Mrs. Rolf Ullestad; enamelist Avis Ballard, a number of Peninsula potters and other craftsmen.

The show will be open to the public July 19-28, from 7:30 p.m. through the Bach concert intermission, except on Sunday, July 21 and 28, when the hours are 1:30-5 p.m. during the afternoon concerts.

Local horsemen in Salinas Rodeo

Valley and Carmel horsemen and cowboys will be well represented in the annual California Rodeo in Salinas, July 18-21.

In the arena, Fred Nason, Tom Mattart and George Shorey will compete. On the track, Trail and Saddle Club high point winner, Sylvia Zoellin is entered, along with Ursula Ballantyne, Roy Forzani and Vic Silva.

Marcia Dahle, another junior member of the Trail and Saddle Club, is entered in the Rodeo Sweetheart contest.

In addition to those in competition, the CV Horsemen Association, the Trail and Saddle Club and numerous individuals will be riding in the opening Grand Marches each day.

Art show to open at Church of the Wayfarer

The Religious Art Exhibit sponsored by the Church of the Wayfarer, Carmel, will be held from July 20 through July 28, concurrently with the Bach Music Festival. The painting competition is open to all artists and is held in the Church's Fellowship Hall. Cash awards will be given each category.

Jurors this year will be Mr. Leon K. Amyx, Instructor in Painting and History of Art at Hartnell College in Salinas, California; Mr. John Halloran Curator of the Carmel Art Association, Carmel by-the-Sea, California; Mr. Alfred Charles Parker, Illustrator and Painter, Carmel Valley, California.

SOMETHING NEW

Unlike exhibits held previously, something new is being tried this year in that media will be limited to oils, acrylics and water colors. Many fine works in other media have been introduced in the past, and it is planned that they will be given special opportunities in future exhibits.

There is no charge for admission. Those interested in participating may contact the Church Office, Church of the Wayfarer, P. O. Box 2205, Carmel by-the-Sea, or phone 624-3550.

ANNUAL B–B–Q BUFFET

Ruth and Rex Pryer annually give a summer buffet B–B–Q at their home on Calle de la Paloma. Traditionally the evening of their choice is so beautiful that their guests accuse them of tossing a potion of summer magic into the huge cast-iron cauldron in which a fire is built to add cheer and warmth to their patio.

Enjoying the Pryer hospitality this year were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Angier Jr, Dr. and Mrs. Ed Arana (and Carol's sister Ellen who was their houseguest) Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Antonicich Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bussinger, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cummings, Maj. (ret.) and Mrs. Daniel Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ciezadlo, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin T. Johnson, Maj. (ret.) Billie Mans, Mr. and Mrs. Rudi Marzi, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mink, Mrs. Marian Grey, Dr. and Mrs. Arno Hanel, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rauber, Mrs. Joe Roland, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thystrup, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilsdon.

FOURTH PICNIC

Rev. and Mrs. Don Johnson shared their Fourth of July with Florence's sister and family who make their home in Northridge, California. Mr. and Mrs. John Broberg with their daughter Valerie and son John, accompanied the Johnsons and their sons, Steve (home for the holiday), Mark and Jeff , to the Carmel Beach.

There they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Sueng Park with Anna and John, of Monterey, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Chapman from Carmel, and the Chapman sons Ned of New York and Richard, a doctor in Menlo Park, who was accompanied by his two children.

LUNCH PARTY

Scott Gibson invited a group of his classmates from last year at Tularcitos, to have luncheon and enjoy games at his home on Poppy Road. Scott's mother, Mrs. William Gibson was assisted with the party preparations by Mrs. Theo Mirani Jr.

Children attending were Rodney Anderson, Bill Smith, Ann Marie Lang and a guest, Garth Hattan, Ralph Verde, Becky Viljoen, Scott's sister Cindy; and the Mirani children Diane, Gina, Teddy and Annie.

HOME ECONOMIST

Many homemakers in Carmel Valley have a pet recipe or a kitchen short-cut which was gleaned from the files of Miss Thelma Fahrenkrog. For 25 years, the P,G & E home economist has conducted cooking classes for the appliance dealers.

Many Valley cooks have had an opportunity to see her on her several trips to the Valley or throughout the central coast counties. Thelma, who retires on the first of August, was honored recently by the Salinas Valley appliance dealers who presented her with a merchandise order and a three-day trip to Lake Tahoe.

KIM COVENTRY was completely engrossed in a story which she had selected and placed on the tape recorder. Because the Carmelo Summer School is the only active class program in the district, the teachers can draw on any equipment they wish from any of the schools. Therefore there is an abundance of tape recorders, viewers, film strips, record players, books and materials from which the children can select. The library is a beehive of quiet activity as the youngsters each pursues his or her particular interest.

A COMBINATION of organized work and freedom to experiment with a wide variety of stimulating props keep the young imaginations working. In the primary grade room, there were children reading, looking at film strips, making flags and hats (this was the day before the Fourth of July) painting, working with numbers and pictured here, intently organizing a puppet show.

The purpose of the summer is a two fold one of demonstrating team teaching on a multi-graded program and working with a system of individualized instruction.

The summer program is divided into two sections. About half the school is in the primary or alpha section and the other half is in the Beta group which is mainly third-fourth graders.

Each child has a different program. Some are spending most of their time writing, some with math, some with science and others with social studies.

Most of the Beta group is working under a contract system where they figure out what they want to accomplish in their chosen field of study and then estimate how long it will take them to complete the work and sign a contract to that effect.

This appears to stress the fact that it is the learners responsibility to achieve his goal. The children work as they would on a term paper, using reference materials and completing the work on their own...by a date which they themselves have determined.

In the primary grade level there are 15 interest centers. Half the time the students may select what he wants to do from his own interest (with a minimum of teacher control). The other half of the morning there is teacher directed class work.

This method is to introduce the younger pupils to the concept of assuming responsibility for study; and according to Ed McCurry, principal of the summer school, with this multi-graded method of team teaching some students who have never opened their mouths before are coming alive and participating actively in class work.

Several field trips have also been taken. One group went on a visit to Point Lobos for the Bird Island Nature Tour and another group that is studying journalism and newspaper makeup made a trip to The Outlook to see how the paper was made up and printed.

Guest lecturers have also been invited to talk to different groups on their particular subject of study.

The third and fourth grade newspaper class put out the first issue of its own paper this week.

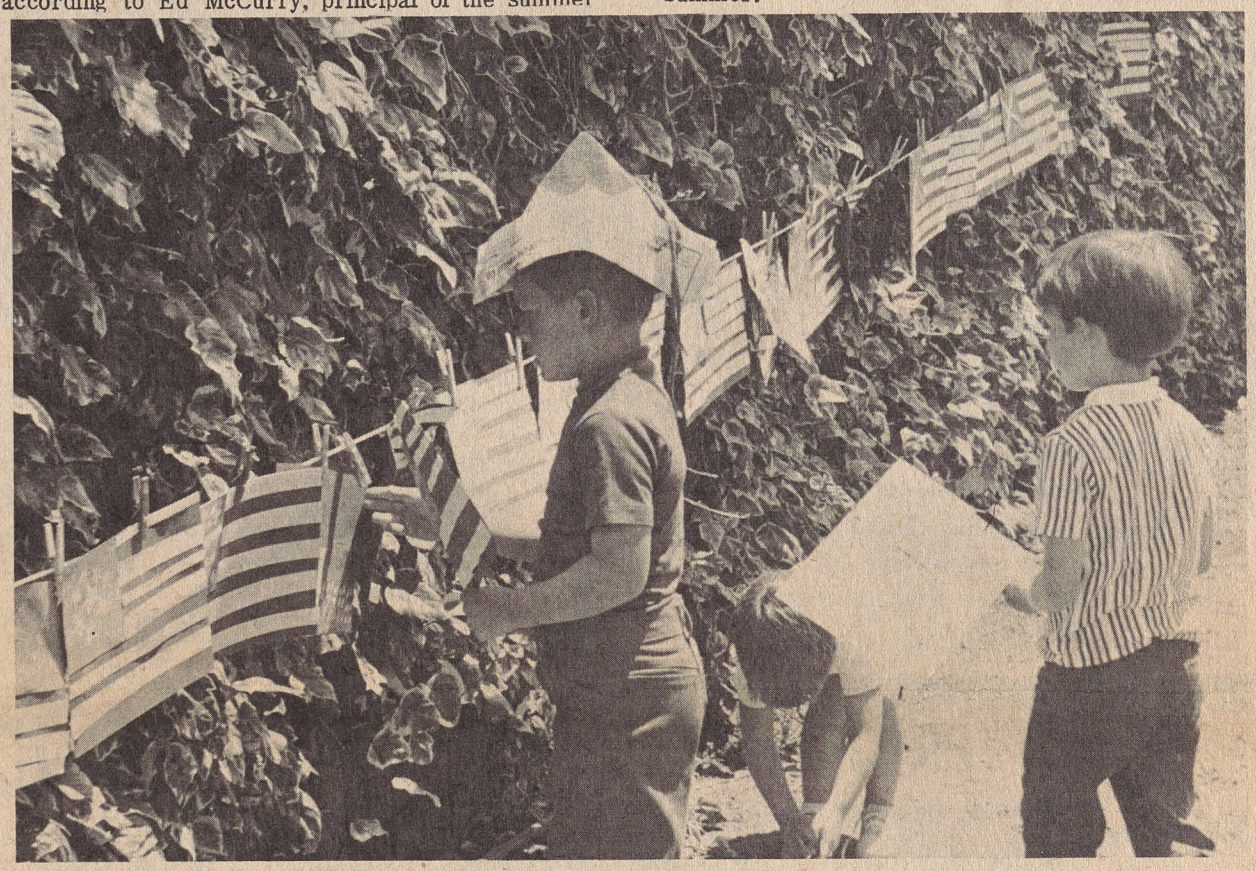
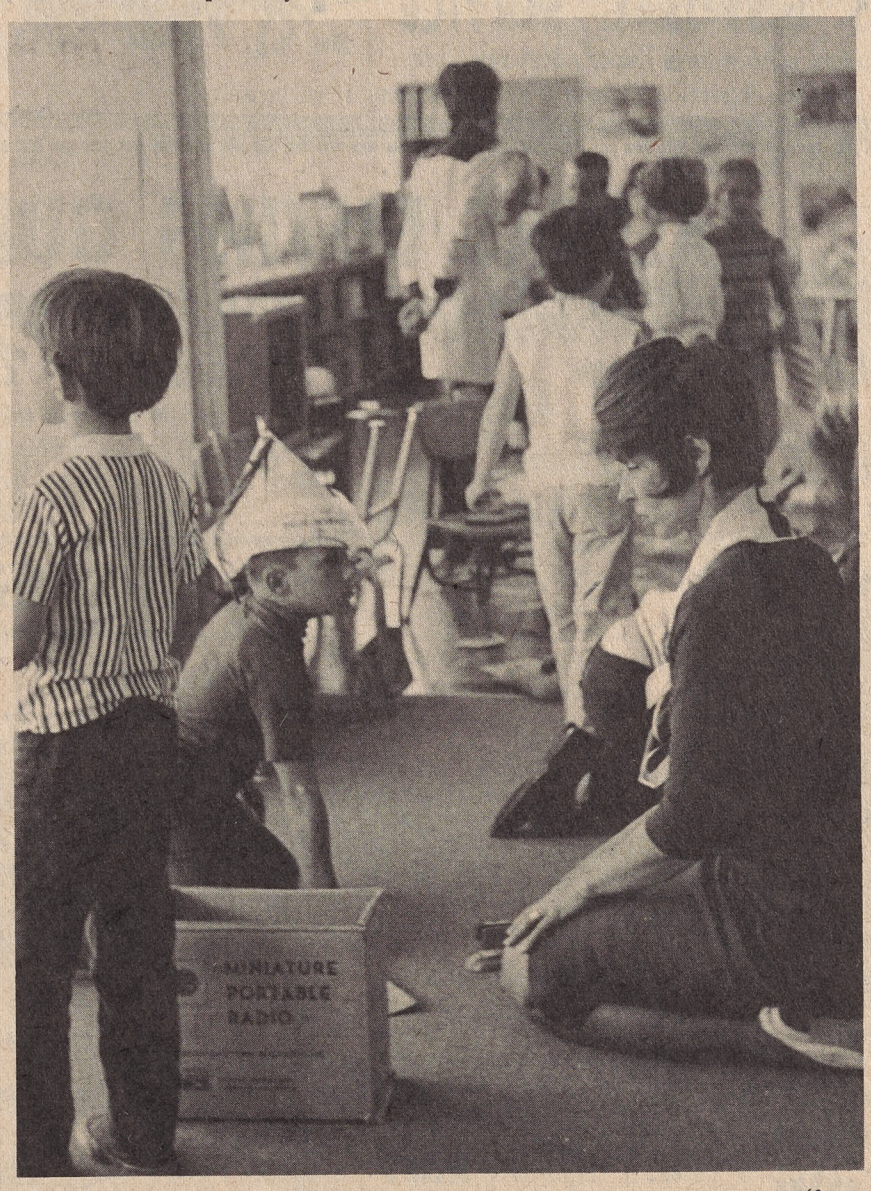
During recess, which is one half hour long, the students have a choice of either playing on the playground or working with art-type materials. There has been a tremendous interest in wood construction, clay work, painting and collage during this period of the day. Next Wednesday, the Summer School is planning an all-school art show to display some of the interesting results.

Some Carmel School District teachers are taking a course this summer tying in with the methods being used in summer school. And activities in both age groups are being video taped so that all teachers in the district may benefit from the work done this summer.



MICHAEL ODELLO and Bobby Kolb hung their flags out to dry. The clothesline held a fascinating array of stars and stripes which the primary class had painted in honor of Independence Day. The flags showed a tremendous amount of independence on the part of the students.



BOBBY ODELLO (center) got his hat stapled together by Mrs. Goines (foreground) while Bobby Kolb waited for him. Karene Gustafson walks toward the other room where Mrs. Green was talking to a group of youngsters.

A PAINTING BY HECTOR NAVARRO, whose exhibit is currently on view at the studio-gallery of Marlinde Von Ruhs in Sunset Center.

Paintings and drawings by Hector Navarro of Guadalajara, Mexico, will be on display at the Marlinde Von Ruhs Studio Gallery in Sunset Center through July 24.

Although Navarro is a professor of architecture, his main efforts are directed toward fine arts, in both painting and drawing. He uses mixed media, combining gold leaf and foil with paint in a free form subject matter.

Navarro has had a number of one man shows in Guadalajara, but this is his first individual exhibit in the United States.

Marlinde has recently had several shows herself in Guadalajara and has been asked to show in Mexico City in September during the Olympics.

The Von Ruhs Gallery in Sunset Center is open from 12 to 5 p.m. daily.

CVYO

The Carmel Valley Youth Organization will hold a rummage sale on the 27th and 28th of this month. This is the chance to straighten out that closet or garage because they need your cast-offs and giveaways.

If anyone has items he would like to donate to further the cause of the CVYO, please call 659-4681 between 12 noon and 4:30 p.m. and ask for the youth center director. He will be glad to pick up merchandise or make arrangements for delivery to the Center.

SATURDAY NITE PARTY

A warm invitation is extended to anyone between the ages of 13-18 to join the CVYO this Saturday night, July 20, at 8 p.m. at the Community Center for a new sound experience.

The Youth group has all the new lp's to play. The more the merrier, so come one, come all! And bring a friend!

Pre-teens have summer program

The OK's summer program includes special activities on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Each Tuesday from 10-12, there is a craft program for the pre-teen members at the Community Centre.

On Thursday, July 18, there will be a bike hike from 10-12 and on July 25 there will be a beach party from 1-3:30.

All finishing times are approximate, according to Dr. Pat May. And members are urged to sign up at the Center for special activities.

League B–B–Q.

LITTLE LEAGUE

The cake decorating contest, a part of the cake walk, promised a theater party to the team whose Mother won first prize for the best decorated cake. Mrs. John Simpson with her clever frosting painting of Charlie Brown won top honors for her son, David.

In second place was a patriotic theme topping, using an egg trimmed as Uncle Sam, made for Mark McCurry by his mother Mrs. Edwin McCurry. This won a round of ice cream bars.

A gift certificate at the Carmel Sport Shop for making the most b-b-q ticket sales was also won by a Pirate, Jeff Mink.

The team was coached by George Maddock assisted by C. Wesley and B. Neidinger. Other members of the team attending the matinee at the Village Theater were Lori Avila, Ben Olsen, Don Corona, Paul Corona, Grant Loban, Jim Thayer, Nate Wesley, John Izzie, Kenny Jones, Mark Neidinger and Brett Gayman.

The Pirates also enjoyed a swimming luncheon following their final game at the Sage Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mink.

VISIT FOR WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William Hancpol of West Carmel Valley Road drove down to Oxnard recently to attend the wedding of their niece. Bobette Ann King. The ceremony took place on June 29 at the Westminster Presbyterian Church where Bobette became the bride of Robert Foucek.

Mr. Foucek is a member of the Sea-Bees. Among the bridal attendants were the Hancpol daughters Bana Jo and Bridget Ann, who were charming as flower girls.

Their daughter Betty Louise and Ann Springer (of the Valley who accompanied them) assisted as hostesses at the reception. Before returning home the Valleyites spent thirteen hours touring Disneyland and all agreed it was "beautiful, fun and exhausting."

New arrivals

A girl, Kira Tasha, born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bernard Forrest, San Antonio & 13th, Carmel, on June 20.

A boy, Clinton Shane, born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Pina, P.O. Box 3252, Carmel, on June 21.

A boy, John Charles, born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allen Tole, Route 3, Box 446, Carmel, on July 2.

Bruce McGlochlin weds Marcia

Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Carmel Valley was the setting for the July 6 wedding of Marcia Lee Kalina and Bruce Alan McGlochlin. Marcia is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edwin C. Kalina of Caracas, Venezuela (formerly of Pacific Grove).

Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. McGlochlin of Carmel Valley.

Rev. Vincent Cowan officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony.

The bride wore a white peau de soie gown, trimmed with reembroidered alencon lace and carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and butterfly orchids. Her maid of honor was her sister, Janice, who also sang Schubert's Ave Maria and Alleluia, by Mozart, prior to the ceremony.

Bob Whiteman of Carmel Valley was Bruce's best man and Dave Nelson of Pacific Grove ushered.

Linda and Laurie McGlochlin were in charge of the guest book at the reception which was held at the Officers' Club of the Presidio in Monterey.

The bride attended MPC, Cal Poly and Humboldt State where the groom is presently a student. The young couple plan to live in Carmel Valley.

Camera Club to meet July 18

The Padre Trails Camera Club will meet on July 18, in Brey Hall at the Carmel High School, at 8 p.m.

Each member is requested to bring four slides for use in making up an exhibition of the work of the club, to be shown at the Monterey County Fair.

The club contest will feature nature slides, and each member may enter four slides in this competition.

Instructional slides supplied by Eastman Kodak Company will be shown. Guests are welcome.

Pet of the Week

BIG SISTER is watching you! What a wonderful nurse-maid she would make! At 7 months this friendly airedale is watching over the smaller pups awaiting adoption at the SPCA Shelter at 2099 David Ave., New Monterey. Her charge at the moment is an eight-week-old husky who has been missing her mama.

Find out how easy it is to become a dog owner by phoning Mrs. Gwen May or any of her helpers at 375-3333.

MIDDLE INCOME INVESTORS

Time for another look at tax-exempt securities

The passage of the new surtax makes tax-exempt municipal securities an even more valuable investment for many middle and high income families.

Let's look at just two examples:

For investors whose joint return annual income is:	$20-24,000 (32%)	$32-36,000 (42%)
The equivalent taxable yield necessary to equal a 5% tax-exempt yield before surtax was:	7.35%	8.62%
The equivalent taxable yield after surtax necessary now to equal a 5% tax-exempt yield is:	7.72%	9.29%

As your income level rises, the advantages of tax-exempt interest from municipal securities increase.

Municipal securities may be secured by full faith and credit of the issuing municipality, or secured by revenues produced from basic municipal services such as water and light, or secured by leasehold income from public authorities and private industry. Historically, they have a safety record second only to U.S. Government obligations.

Salinas Rodeo Big Week begins today!

Everything about the California Rodeo is big and the Big Hat barbecue, being held tonight at the Sheriff's Posse Grounds, is no exception; in fact it may just be the biggest cookout in the state with more than a ton of steaks consumed by some 3,000 hungry patrons, together with mountains of lettuce, bushels of beans and rivers of coffee.

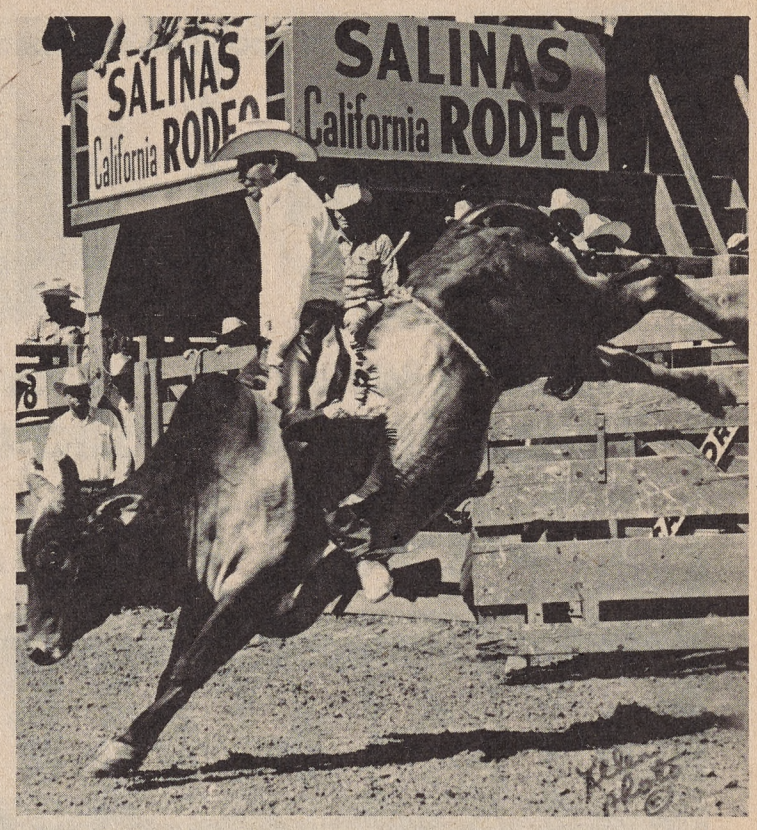
But most of all it's time to exchange the business suit and the tie for blue jeans and a scarf and, brogues for high heel boots and fedoras for Western hats.

It's the first event of Salinas "Big Week" which culminates in the four day rodeo, July 18 through 21, which has been held for more than half a century and has earned the reputation of being one of the "Big Four" of the world.

The Grand Entry of the Salinas Rodeo will kick off the first day with hundreds of groups and single horsemen parading onto the Rodeo grounds to mark the official 1:30 opening time.

On Thursday, the 1968 Rodeo Sweetheart will be named after the entry parade and will reign through the four days.

Saturday night, the Colmo del Rodeo parade, beginning at 8:30 p.m. in downtown Salinas, will feature over 75 entries including bands, marching groups and lighted floats.



Final, and most exciting day, of the annual Salinas Rodeo will be Sunday when the cowboys will be doing their best to pile up the largest numbers of points toward the big prize money.

Aquamaids take swim contest; Cypress is 2nd

The Santa Clara Aquamaids National AAU Team champions, swept the 1968 Senior Pacific AAU Synchronized Swimming Championships at Monterey Peninsula College last weekend, shattering some old records as they went.

The hosts, Cypress Swim Club, which sponsored the championship meet in cooperation with the Monterey Recreation Dept., won second place.

The Cypress A team placed third in preliminaries, but was able to move up in the finals to edge the Santa Clara B team by a little over one point.

Santa Clara had a .1 point lead over Cypress following stunt competition, but was pushed to third in the routine finals.

The San Francisco Merionettes failed to defend their title in this event and saw the record set by Margo McGrath Carol Redman and their teammates at the same meet last year bettered by the Santa Clara Aquamaids.

Paced by Kim Welshons, who took four gold medals, the Aquamaids toppled all previous records, receiving the highest scores ever awarded in solo, duet, team and stunt competition.

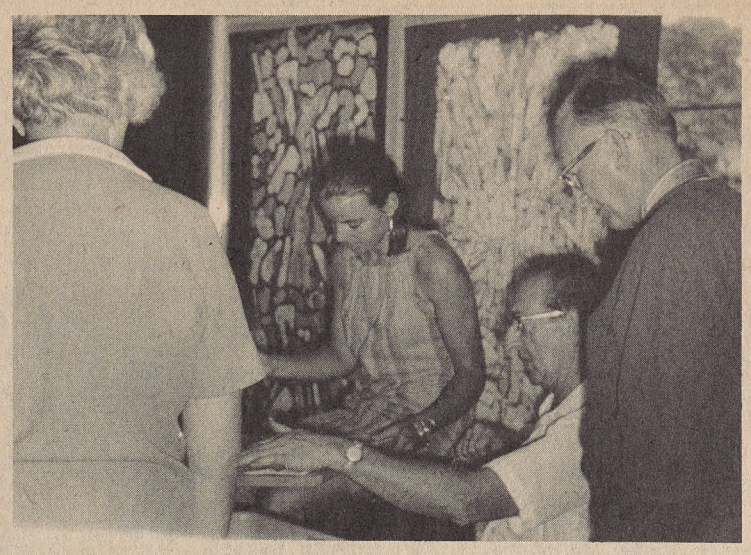
Entered for the first time in a senior meet, the Cypress B team won the seventh place spot. In solo competition the Cypress entries placed as follows: Susie Selfridge, 9th; Jan Roehl, 12th; Sharon Roehl, 13th; Linda Doud, 16th.

Jan and Sharon Roehl were the only non-Santa Clara finalists in duet competition, where they won sixth place.

Other Cypress duet placements were Doud and Selfridge, 8th and Bonnie Banker and Judy Snyder, 9th.

In solo competition, Kathy Bryant of San Francisco, swimming unattached, prevented a Santa Clara sweep, by placing 5th. Otherwise, it was Santa Clara all the way as they fielded six of seven solo and duet finalists and three of the seven team finalists.

Next competition for the Cypress Swim Club will be in the senior National AAU Outdoor Championships to be hosted by Santa Clara at the new International Swim Center in that city, July 26, 27, and 28.



"ART IN ACTION" will be featured at Rippling River on Thursdays, with a variety of craftsmen and artists demonstrating their work. Harry Conley opened the series, showing his batik technique to interested luncheon guests. Next Thursday, Ginni Thayer will demonstrate coutour drawing and the following week Avis Ballard will do enameling.

Farm team Cubs beat Pirates 30-0

The boys in green and white baseball caps and tee shirts identifying them as members of the Little League Farm Team known as "The Cubs" won a 30-0 victory Saturday over "The Pirates". It was their final game of a season which for The Champion Farm Team can only be termed as "GLORIOUS!" Their wins were large and impressive. Their one and only loss was with "an out-of-town coach-manager eight players Handicap!" There were no ties.

The players and parents alike are quick to give full credit to Coach Steve Thigpen and Manager Bill Hancpol. Their hours of patient instruction after work and on Saturdays with a group of boys who had never (with the exception of one) played ball before was best described by a hero worshipping member of their team who was overheard telling an adult, "...and do you know that they don't even get paid to work with us?"

That they were the only Farm Team not to have a sponsor did not discourage The Cubs who went on to win the handsome trophy presented to Steve Thigpen by Little League president George Palmer, following the game Saturday at Casey Field. The boys celebrated with a swimming luncheon at the Thigpen's home on Rancho Tierra Grande.

The Sheriff's Blotter

With the advent of hot weather, a number of people have been leaving windows open or having patio parties to the consternation of their neighbors. Five loud parties were reported to the sheriff's office last week.

The Sheriff's office also points out that hot, dry weather is good for rattlesnakes. Three were killed by deputies during the past few months.

JULY 15

Maurine Downey, Country Club Drive, C.V. has found a pekinese dog which she will keep in case someone calls, 659-4321.

Valerie Minor, Holman Rd., C.V. called the sheriff's office to say that a large rattlesnake was in her front yard. Snake dispatched by deputy.

James Clark, Girard Ranch, C.V. heard a gunshot on the property.

Charles Belcham, Brookdale Rd., reported that someone threw a lit flare onto his front porch.

JULY 14

Ray Hanley, Eddy Rd., C.V. reported the theft of a wooden roadsign.

JULY 13

C.V. Firechief Chip Collins found dynamite near a fire near Carmel River.

William Russell, Chaparrel Rd., C.V. complained that litter was dumped across from his house.

Peter Van Dyke Ray, of the Carmel Highlands Fire Dept. reported the theft of a battery and spare tire from his car. Fire Chief Kodami reported a suspicious vehicle in the Highlands.

JULY 12

Bob Steinmetz told deputies that two young men were begging in the Carmel Valley Shopping Center. One was white and one colored. They gave out cards saying they were deaf. Drove toward village in a late model cream-colored Ford.

Marjory Thornburg, E. Garzas Rd., said that gasoline had been taken from her plane at C.V. Airport.

JULY 11

June Gillette, S. Bank Rd., C.V. reported that someone had tried to enter her house.

Dean Diaz, Plaza Linda Mexican Restaurant, C.V. reported an attempted break-in.

A Murray 24-in. bike was taken from River School, according to Francis Erskin, Travis Way, Carmel.

A car was broken into at Scenic and Ocean View, Pt., Carmel.

A hitch hiker reported that girls made off (by mistake) with his gear...a sleeping bag, pair of moccasins, laced vest, hippy beads and two pairs blue levis with holes. (His property was returned to Redwood Lodge).

T&S horse show set for Labor Day week end

The annual Trail and Saddle Club Horse Show has been a tradition in the Valley for the past thirteen years and attracts some of the most outstanding riders and horses in Central California. Plans are in the final stages for this year's event on August 31 and September 1.

According to Bob Angell, chairman, events for this year's show will include open classes as well as the showing of many registered breeds on halter and in performance.

An always popular event for the spectators will be the fast action cutting horses and the famous Tennessee Walking horses showing their stylish running walk. Many other traditional and special English and western classes have been planned.

The Trail and Saddle Club show has been approved by the Pacific Coast Hunter, Jumper and Stock Horse Association as a junior division show and by the California State Horsemen's Association as part of the Region 6 Championship Series.

Lists of events and entry blanks will soon be circulated by mail and will also be available in many local stores.

Additional information and the application forms may be obtained from the secretary, Mrs. Ruth Bishop, P.O. Box 521, Carmel Valley, phone 659-2837. Closing date for entries will be August 18.

Course in gun safety given for young hunters

A Hunters' Safety training course will be held Monday evening, at 7 p.m., at the Community Center in Carmel Valley.

Any person under 18 years of age must first complete the course as prescribed by the State of California before a hunting license may be obtained.

All students must be accompanied by a parent or guardian to sign in between 7 and 7:30 p.m. and parents are welcome to stay if they wish.

The course lasts about two hours and a second session will be held on Monday, July 29.

The course was designed by the State of California Dept. of Fish and Game. It covers not only safe handling of firearms, but also field safety and California Fish and Game regulations.

The Instructors are William Wellborn, NRA instructor and DFG instructor and Sgt. DeWayne MacFadden of the Monterey Police Dept.
